

INTRO

Welcome everyone to the morning masala of DTM TIMES , and I am TM Akash Jain as reporter kaju kumar reporting live .

Good morning, viewers! Here are today's DTM headlines..."

- 1. DTM Weather Update: The air will stay energetic throughout the session. Expect a networking thunderstorm between 11 and 11:20, followed by light munching showers around 12.
  - 2. Pookie Astrologers forecast that people with the Aries zodiac sign have a high chance of winning today's rewards.

Wait Wait there is some breaking news !

An Indian Toastmaster has conquered the International Speech Contest! once again India proves it's unstoppable — whichever domain it enters , they rock and makes the world a little jealous, and shocked

[Hey everybody as a proud Indian give yourself a huge round of applause.]

But that's not all —

The Government has now issued an official investigation against Toastmasters. Reason? To uncover how the DTM Executive Committee managed to organize such a blockbuster anniversary event so flawlessly... in their very first term!

Meanwhile, sources even claim... Delhi Toastmasters are posting AI-generated party pictures just to flex their success!

And Now the nation wants to know... What is the real source of Delhi Toastmasters' energy?

Madam President, could you please tell us the source of energy ? Is it Tesseract , is it boost ,what exactly is the source : The nation wants to know ?

Well, now I would love to hear some breaking news from you!
It can be anything

big or small, serious or silly and hey say it in a most weird manner.

For example:

1. Breaking News : For the first time this month, I finished my to-do list before the day ended!
2. Breaking News : I kept my New Year's resolution alive till September—record-breaking streak!
3. Breaking News : For 7 days straight, I woke up without an alarm!

So... what's your breaking news?

Raise your hand.

I want more hands because some gifts are waiting for you all!"

---

Now Are you all excited for today's Broadcast .

Let me tell you the flow :

1. Prepared Speeches : This is where our top reporters present news of every kind: humorous, adventurous , thrilling... but absolutely not the kind that sparks debates like Party A vs Party B .
2. Table Topics Session : Our on-the-spot site reporting! . Reporters will give live coverage, no scripts, no pre-planning, just pure, spontaneous news!
3. General Evaluation Session : This is the editor's cut, where we polish the headlines before they go viral. Reporter's efforts are appreciated with constructive feedback , not criticize! Think of it as turning good stories into award-winning coverage.

But wait wait I am missing something !!

Every blockbuster broadcast needs its anchors, reporters, and field agents!

So, let's call our team on stage one by one — but we'll do it with a little suspense.I will give little intro and you have to guess who's who!

1.Our first agent is someone wise, who never lets the time run away from our newsroom... yes, you guessed it, our Timer!

2. We have someone who notices every tiny word, every comma, and every headline — keeping our sentences crisp and award-worthy. That’s our Grammarian!

3. Someone who silently tracks all the ‘uhs’ and ‘ums’ in our speeches, like a secret spy in the newsroom — our Ah-Counter!

4. Someone who is ultimate gossip detective — catching every word, every hint, and making sure the goodies reach the right people at the end. Give it up for our Listener!

5. The master of suspense — leaves you hanging with a story, a twist ... only to reveal it later. That’s our very own Random Master !.

Now its time for the amazing report/stories by prepared speakers . I will be calling our excellent reports one by one.

Th first reporter or speaker is , Our next reporter or speaker

But before calling the speaker on stage I would like to call his evaluator to tell the speech objectives.

SPEAKERS INTRO

TM Harshdeep : Someone who loves to cook up stories but is terrible at cooking... just like his idol MS Dhoni ,sharp in numbers as well as on the cricket field.Help me welcome TM HARSHDEEP on stage.

TM Rachit : Our next speaker calls himself simple... but I know he’s ultra-creative.He says he’s hardworking... but I say he’s naturally talented . Ladies and gentlemen, let’s welcome TM Rachit on stage.

TM Sumeet : Our next speaker is someone who’s always in the news for his age mystery .Some call him vintage classic , some call him modern... but the headlines always agree ,he’s the dancing star of our club! . So help me welcome TM Sumeet the most modern personality of our club!.

TM Adarsh : Our next speaker says he is a foodie, but I feel he’s secretly health-conscious. Someone who loves evaluations the most, but today he’s here to flex with his speech.

ACTIVITY

Hey everybody , Its time to spice up our newsroom!

Are you all excited ??

Audience, please divide into 5 groups.

Each group will get a 'Breaking News' topic from me.

Your task : send a representative (or multiple!) on stage to present this as a 30-second news bulletin.

You can make it humorous, tragic, dramatic like a real news anchor.

(Examples of topics you can give)

- * Morning Aliens spotted in Connaught Place
- * India bans Monday mornings
- * Maggi launches 'Toastmasters Masala'
- * Delhi Metro to have dance coaches
- * AI replaces all evaluators in Toastmasters

Now its time a short commercial cum networking break!

This ad break is proudly sponsored by ChaiGPT Pvt. Ltd. – the only company that guarantees happiness both by content and chai.

Please take 10 minutes, network with fellow reporters, and be ready .

AFTER THE BREAK

Welcome again to the DTM Times .

There are some news recorded during the short break.

1. Many people got caught in a networking thunderstorm and ended up forming a lot of new connections!
2. Sources informed that some people from left row are trying to pay bribe to Table topic master to get chance on stage (TTM if this happens report to DTM ICE urgently.)
3. Sources informed that a person from right row hide snacks to take it after meeting. (SAA pls have a look to this)
4. Sources informed me that Listener opened Blinkit multiple times seeing the craziness of DTM people.

I would like to know in this dynamic world, where do you get your news from?

For me, it's LinkedIn – somehow, whether it's a major global event or Trump announcing some new tariff, I get updated faster than any breaking news alert!

What about you?

See , there are lot of resources insta , whatsapp , newschannel, news comes from everywhere – and everyone has their own source. But here's something that really fascinated me..."Few days ago , I met a very interesting person – someone who is completely disconnected from all electronic devices. No phone, no laptop, not even a fan or AC! And yet... during our conversation, this person was making punchlines about AI, ChatGPT, and the latest tech trends .that blew my mind! I thought, 'Wait... how does someone so disconnected stay so updated?'

Well, here's the secret – he read 2–3 newspapers daily. Not to crack exams, not to trade stocks, but just to stay connected with the world. But what he is actually he is absorbing information, thinking about it deeply, and forming his own perspective – without getting lost in the chaos of social media or sensationalistic headlines.

It really made me realize – in this fast-paced, hyper-connected world, the power isn't in just getting news fast... it's in processing it wisely and forming your own opinion.

So remember – always verify the news yourself, don't get influenced by sudden hype, and think critically before reacting or forwarding.
